SSR® Middle East

SSR® is the largest recruitment consultancy and executive search practice dedicated to the Security, Fire, Health and Safety sectors. SSR® enjoys an enviable reputation in the supply of recruitment and staffing solutions globally.

With our parent operation in the UK, we are the recruitment consultancy of choice for international companies – including the top 500 UK companies and a growing reputation among the Fortune 500 companies.

We provide leading edge services to blue chip and independent organisations, private and public sector, internationally – demonstrating an excellent knowledge of local market needs.

We provide our clients with the ‘commercial edge’, creating a strategic alliance to manage their resources.

Services

SSR® Middle East is based in Dubai and staffed by a highly experienced team of consultants who provide the high quality service for which SSR® is well known.

At SSR® Middle East we provide the following leading edge services :

At SSR® Middle East we work to form strong relationships with our clients to gain a good understanding of their unique need and tailor recruitment and staffing solutions to meet this. We aim to fulfill your exact specification, sourcing technically and professionally competent candidates at every level.

SSR® Middle East is able to cater to the Security Risks and Threats faced by our Corporate clients here, by providing them with the right Professional Security Personnel that they require.

We search proactively, to ensure that our clients are presented with a quality shortlist of candidates to interview, who are pre-screened and pre-interviewed by us, and selected in line with the criteria provided.

Our guarantee to you – we strongly believe that it is vital you get the right person for your company. If an SSR® introduced candidate should fail to meet your expectations, or leave within 16 weeks of their commencement date, we will replace them without further fee.

Understanding your needs

The quality that we offer to our clients is unrivalled; we are unique in our commitment to professionalism, which permeates each and every function of our business. Our dedication to our markets is total. Extensive networking, through personal connections, advertising, PR, exhibitions and associations has established unprecedented market knowledge.

Our staff are highly motivated, dynamic individuals, who demonstrate incredible sector knowledge coupled with flexibility and integrity. Our Consultants take responsibility – they only have time for excellence. The result for our clients is an exceptional number of candidates who are right 'first time', resulting in measurable cost and time savings.

SSR® Personnel Middle East provides World class recruitment services for permanent personnel.
